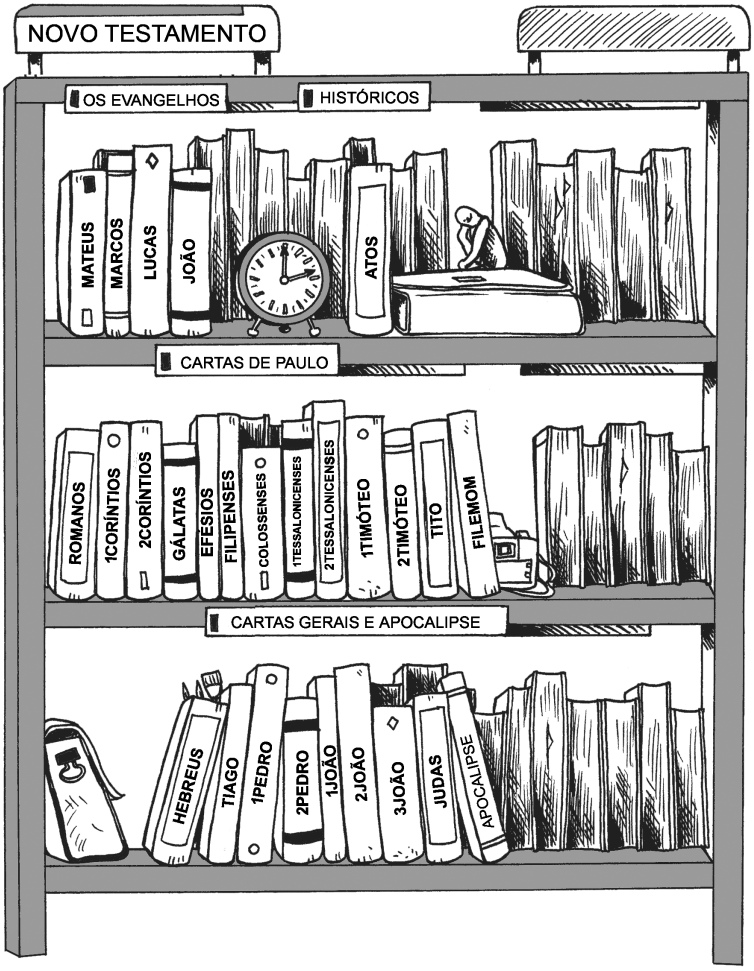
VISÃO GERAL DO NOVO TESTAMENTO



CONTEÚDO DO NOVO TESTAMENTO

Os livros do Novo Testamento foram escritos pelos seguidores de Jesus Cristo. Esses seguidores queriam que outros conhecessem as boas notícias sobre Jesus e a possibilidade da vida "nova" disponível para eles porque Jesus, de boa vontade, sofreu o castigo pelos pecados da humanidade quando morreu na cruz. O Novo Testamento consiste em quatro relatos do ministério, da morte e da ressurreição de Jesus, chamados de "Evangelhos", uma narrativa histórica sobre a Igreja Primitiva (Atos) e Cartas e outros escritos de líderes da Igreja para congregações e indivíduos que lutaram para ser seguidores fiéis de Jesus.

EVANGELHOS E ATOS

"Evangelho" é uma palavra de origem grega que significa "boa notícia". Os primeiros escritos do Novo Testamento foram chamados de "Evangelhos" porque anunciam as boas notícias sobre Jesus Cristo e o Reino de Deus. Os quatro Evangelhos apresentam vários relatos da vida e dos ensinamentos de Jesus Cristo e, juntos, constituem mais ou menos metade do Novo Testamento. O Livro de Atos, por sua vez, traz um relatório detalhado do que aconteceu com alguns dos primeiros seguidores de Jesus enquanto levavam a mensagem sobre Jesus de Jerusalém para outras áreas do Império Romano.

MATEUS Como os outros Evangelhos, Mateus conta as boas notícias sobre Jesus Cristo. A importância de "fazer o que é certo" e da obediência a Deus são temas importantes em Mateus. O Evangelho começa com o nascimento de Jesus e termina com sua morte e ressurreição. Algumas das palavras de Jesus mais citadas vêm de seu famoso "Sermão do Monte", nos capítulos 5 a 7 desse Evangelho.

MARCOS Marcos é o menor dos Evangelhos e fornece uma visão geral do ministério de Jesus. Esse livro cheio de ação está repleto de milagres que maravilhavam as multidões e os seguidores de Jesus. Mas, de acordo com Marcos, o milagre mais poderoso de Jesus é seu sofrimento, morte e ressurreição.

LUCAS Duas coisas se destacam no texto do Evangelho de Lucas: Deus se importa profundamente com os pobres e marginalizados

e o Espírito Santo é o grande presente de Deus para todo aquele que o pede. Lucas traz boa parte do material de Marcos e Mateus, mas também tem histórias (chamadas de "parábolas") que não podem ser achadas em nenhum outro Evangelho, como "O bom samaritano" (10.25-37) e "A parábola do filho perdido" (15.11-32). O autor de Lucas também é o autor de Atos (veja abaixo).

JOÃO O Evangelho de João é bem diferente dos outros três Evangelhos. Começa com um prólogo em que Jesus é descrito como o Verbo, a Palavra da Vida. O restante do livro é organizado ao redor de sete sinais (milagres) que apontam para Jesus como o Filho de Deus. Esse Evangelho também reproduz vários diálogos longos que Jesus teve com algumas pessoas, nos quais ele revelou quem era e o que Deus mandou que ele fizesse.

ATOS Escrito pelo autor de Lucas como uma sequência daquele Evangelho, Atos conta a história da Igreja Primitiva. Depois de Jesus ser levado para o céu, ele envia o Espírito Santo para os discípulos no Dia de Pentecostes. Movidos pelo Espírito Santo, os apóstolos levam as boas notícias sobre Jesus Cristo ao longo do mundo mediterrâneo. O apóstolo Pedro é a figura central no início de Atos; Paulo, um fariseu que perseguia os discípulos e, mais tarde, se torna um seguidor de Jesus, é a figura principal na segunda metade do livro.

AS CARTAS DE PAULO

Paulo é considerado o autor de quase metade dos "livros" do Novo Testamento (treze ao todo), e algumas de suas Cartas estão, certamente, entre os escritos mais antigos do Novo Testamento. Nove Cartas de Paulo são endereçadas a igrejas em localidades específicas. Nessas Cartas, Paulo afirma seu direito de ser considerado um apóstolo, dá orientações em assuntos que estão causando problemas nessas igrejas e ensina sobre como Deus torna as pessoas aceitáveis por meio da morte e ressurreição de Jesus Cristo. As outras quatro Cartas são dirigidas a cristãos individuais.

ROMANOS As Cartas que Paulo escreveu para igrejas e indivíduos para explicar melhor as boas notícias sobre Jesus Cristo são alguns dos escritos mais antigos do Novo Testamento. A Carta que Paulo escreveu para a igreja localizada em Roma é seu maior e talvez melhor esforço para explicar como as pessoas podem se tornar aceitáveis para Deus por meio do sacrifício de Jesus Cristo em favor de seus pecados.

1 E 2CORÍNTIOS Paulo pessoalmente ajudou a fundar a igreja em Corinto, uma agitada cidade portuária da Grécia. As Cartas que Paulo escreveu para essa igreja são uma prova de que o apóstolo se importava profundamente com o modo como os crentes de lá viviam sua fé. Nessas Cartas, ele tenta resolver várias disputas em assuntos religiosos e éticos. Além disso, explica doutrinas, encoraja a unidade entre os crentes, defende seu direito de ser considerado um apóstolo, adverte contra os ensinamentos de apóstolos falsos e pede aos coríntios que deem dinheiro para ajudar a igreja existente em Jerusalém.

GÁLATAS Essa Carta é dirigida às diversas igrejas em uma região central da Ásia Menor chamada Galácia. Aqui Paulo afirma que é um verdadeiro apóstolo de Cristo, que recebeu sua mensagem diretamente de Jesus Cristo e que os líderes da igreja existente em Jerusalém, inclusive Pedro, tinham concordado que Paulo devia levar as boas notícias sobre Jesus para os não judeus. Paulo discute a importância da fé e a liberdade maravilhosa que as pessoas recebem quando colocam sua confiança em Cristo.

EFÉSIOS Essa Carta resume muitos dos ensinamentos encontrados nas Cartas de Paulo. Uma ênfase forte é colocada na unidade que os seguidores de Cristo têm por causa do sacrifício de Jesus em favor de todos e por causa da vida nova que o Espírito de Deus dá a eles.

FILIPENSES Paulo escreveu essa Carta na prisão. Nela, o apóstolo expressa seu afeto pelos crentes da igreja existente em Filipos, uma cidade da Macedônia, e os anima a que permaneçam fiéis a Cristo e se alegrem em Deus, não importa quais sejam as circunstâncias.

COLOSSENSES Essa Carta, escrita para uma igreja na Ásia Menor, desafia os crentes de lá a evitarem os falsos ensinamentos de um grupo de pessoas que os estavam encorajando a desistir de certos desejos físicos e a adorar anjos e poderes espirituais. Em vez disso, o coração de cada um deveria estar somente em Cristo, que está entronizado no céu.

1 E 2TESSALONICENSES A Primeira Carta aos Tessalonicenses pode ser o documento mais antigo do Novo Testamento. Aqui, Paulo dá conselhos para as pessoas de Tessalônica com respeito ao retorno de Cristo e as encoraja a que estejam preparadas. A Segunda Carta aos Tessalonicenses discute os mesmos tópicos.

1 E 2TIMÓTEO E TITO Essas três Cartas foram chamadas de "Cartas Pastorais" porque dão conselhos sobre o que os líderes das igrejas locais deviam fazer para cuidar das necessidades espirituais das pessoas que estavam sob seu cuidado.

FILEMOM Nessa Carta, Paulo parece estar pedindo a um líder rico da igreja, chamado Filemom, para perdoar o escravo Onésimo por ter fugido ou cometido algum tipo de ofensa. Onésimo havia se tornado seguidor de Cristo e amigo de Paulo. Paulo pede que Filemom aceite Onésimo como um irmão em Cristo.

CARTAS GERAIS E APOCALIPSE

Os nove últimos livros do Novo Testamento são escritos por escritores diferentes, com estilos distintos. De Hebreus até Judas, esses livros são frequentemente chamados de "Cartas Gerais", embora alguns deles (Hebreus e 1João) pudessem ser mais bem classificados como sermões. Assim como as Cartas de Paulo, esses livros lançam luz sobre assuntos sociais, históricos e teológicos tratados pela Igreja Primitiva e continuam a fornecer direção espiritual para os crentes de hoje. O último livro nessa seção, Apocalipse, registra as visões que João teve na ilha de Patmos e contém palavras de conforto para as pessoas que devem enfrentar perseguição e sofrer por causa daquilo em que creem.

HEBREUS Esse livro, escrito na forma de uma carta, é um sermão sobre a superioridade de Jesus Cristo. Ele é mostrado como superior aos anjos, ao sacerdócio de Moisés e aos sacrifícios que eram feitos no Templo. Jesus é descrito tanto como Sumo Sacerdote quanto como o sacrifício que tira os pecados. Escrita em uma época em que a Igreja estava sendo perseguida pelas autoridades romanas, essa Carta encoraja os cristãos a permanecerem fiéis a Cristo e a aprenderem com seu exemplo de autossacrifício.

TIAGO Essa breve Carta é uma coleção de ensinamentos sobre uma grande variedade de tópicos. O autor aconselha os cristãos a aprenderem a controlar o que dizem, a evitarem mostrar preferência por pessoas ricas, a cuidarem dos doentes e necessitados e a colocarem sua fé em ação.

1PEDRO Essa Carta foi escrita para levar conforto e encorajamento aos cristãos que estavam sendo perseguidos por causa de sua fé.

2PEDRO Essa Carta, que apresenta algumas semelhanças com a Carta de Judas, adverte os crentes sobre falsos mestres que tentam afastá-los da verdade. O autor encoraja esses crentes a permanecerem leais a Deus e a se manterem puros, porque o Senhor retornará um dia para julgar o mundo.

1, 2 E 3JOÃO A Primeira Carta de João foi escrita para afirmar que Jesus é o Cristo, advertir os crentes sobre falsos profetas e explicar verdades básicas sobre a vida cristã. Uma ênfase especial é colocada no mandamento de amar uns aos outros. A Segunda Carta de João é uma Carta dirigida a uma igreja identificada como "a senhora eleita" e aos seus filhos. Adverte contra falsos mestres. A Terceira Carta de João descreve um conflito entre o autor e um líder da igreja chamado Diótrefes. João anima os crentes a ajudar outros seguidores a espalharem a verdade sobre Cristo.

JUDAS Essa Carta é uma advertência contra a influência de pessoas descrentes e imorais que reivindicavam ter autoridade espiritual baseada em visões que receberam. Esses mestres falsos estavam incitando os crentes a desobedecerem a Jesus Cristo. O autor previne seus leitores para manterem sua fé em Deus e ajudarem qualquer um entre eles que pudesse ter dúvidas.

APOCALIPSE Esse livro foi escrito para encorajar os crentes perseguidos, mostrando o plano de Deus para a história e confirmando a justiça e a misericórdia de Deus. Por meio de visões, simbolismo e códigos, Apocalipse proclama que Cristo, no fim, derrotará todas as forças do mal. Promete, ainda, que aqueles que permanecerem fiéis a Cristo serão recebidos em um novo céu e uma nova terra.
